MISS HANAWALT GOES TO FOREIGN FIELD

Former Normal Teacher to Take Up Missionary Work For Methodists at Nanking

Miss Belle H. Bennett and Deaconess Emily Olmstead will leave early next week for Richmond, Va., to attend the annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Council.

This great organization, of which Miss Bennett is president, is made up of one hundred and five of the leading women of Southern Methodism, besides an additional ex officio membership of twenty-one men and women holding secretarial positions in the various Boards of the Church. The Woman's Missionary Council is at work in seven foreign fields, China, Japan, Korea, Africa, Cuba, Mexico and Brazil.

In the home land, its activities are distributed throughout the states south of the Mason and Dixon line, and in the western section of the United States, as far as the Canadian line. It has large boarding and day schools in the Appalachian mountains for the children in the mountain homes; mission schools on the Mexican border for the Mexicans and in Key West for the Cuban children.

In 53 cities and towns, in lumber and mining camps, and in the Arcadian communities of Southern Louisiana, the Woman's Missionary Council has community houses and other forms of social and religious work, including cooperative homes for working girls and rescue homes for betrayed girls and one large boarding school and home for delinquent and dependent children. It also has community centers for the negroes in some of the southern cities, and a large boarding school for colored girls in Augusta, Ga.

The collections from the missionary auxiliaries of the church have grown rapidly, and now amount to almost a million dollars annually. The year the appropriations, including the centenary offerings, will aggregate something more than a million and a half dollars.

Missionaries will be sent to every foreign field and one of the largest classes of deaconesses will be consecrated at the meeting in Richmond, Va., and appointed to the needy places in the home fields.

Among those who will go to foreign fields this year will be Miss Ella Hanawalt for five years, a teacher in the training School of the Eastern Normal. Her appointment is to Ginling College in the old capital city of Nanking, China. This is the first, and at present, the only girls' college in all of China, being established and sustained by five of the large mission boards of the United States, namely, the Northern and Southern Methodists, the American Presbyterians, the Northern Baptists and the Christian Mission Board. Miss Hanawalt will probably sail from San Francisco in the late summer.

CHURCH LEAGUE STARTS THURSDAY

Six Teams Are Ready for Bell to Tap—All the "Old Boys" Are Out "Passing" Regularly

A bunch of fellows "passing" can be seen on almost every corner and vacant lot in Richmond these days.

The Church League has taken hold with a vim, and the "boys," both young and old, are getting ready for the opening game next Thursday. The tentative program as arranged calls for a double-header; that is, two games, with four teams participating. The Schedule Committee has been at work, and has arranged 15 games so far. Another meeting of the league captains and managers will be held early in the week to pass upon the schedule and decide other details. President Kellogg, who has been out of town for several days, is expected to be back in time to attend this meeting of the league "directors." He will name the umpires and pass on other details.

The boys out in the East End, who attend the Cavalry Baptist church, weren't slow taking advantage of the opportunity offered them to get into the Church League, and their team makes the sixth nine necessary to provide a balanced schedule. They are practicing early and often and will have a fast bunch ready for the call of "Play ball."

Bill Hackett's Second Christian church nine is also doing a lot of preliminary practicing, and are going to be heard from. Bill has some real players in his bunch.

The First Presbyterian boys are rounding up all ball players possible and say they are going to have a fast team, when the bell taps. A brother battery may be presented. Arnold Hanger, who has been agreed upon for captain, is a real big league catcher and his brother, Harry Hanger, is said to be a pitcher with something on the ball. It was said Saturday that the battery for the First Presbyterian church on opening games will be Hanger and Hanger. Charley Terrill, Bob Burnam, Jr., Charley George, June Wiggins, C. A. Keith and others are working hard to "make" this nine.

The First Christian church boys are doing a lot of talking, too. Ab Oldham, who was a star pitcher for Millersburg Institute back in the days when he went to school, is said to have shown out in practice at the Normal grounds that he knows how to put the stuff on the ball as of old. Harold Oldham is trying hard to get in condition to make the team and it looks like he might, for he has a powerful wallop. Elmer Deatherage, his son, "Daddy" Deatherage, Fred Davison, Bill Terrill, Spears Turley and others are likely to be right there in the opening game. This team has a lot of material to pick from and ought to have a real ball team in the field right from the jump. Several "old head" like Billy Millard are eligible for this team and they ought to show some real class.

Harry Bybee and his Methodist team aren't conceding anything to anybody, however. Harry was a real ball player in his prime and his friends say he's still in his prime in many ways. Anyway, he's going to be right there when the bell taps, and don't you forget it. J. Howard Payne—parts his name in the middle—is a former diamond star and will be on this nine. Rev. Dr. Sadler is one of the 33rd degree fans and anyone who beats his team is going to hear some real Methodist shouting during the ordeal—you can bet your life on that.

Frank C. Gentry's first Baptist nine is shaping up—rather hard for some here to "shape up," however. Mr. Gentry is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. F. Smith, on Jackson street, underwent an operation for removal of tonsils Wednesday morning.

Dr. Hutchins will speak next Sunday at 11 a. m., in Union church, upon "A Tonic for the Faithful." The topic for the mid-week service Thursday evening at 7:30 will be "The Renewing of the Spiritual Life."—The Citizen.

We admit that prohibition has good points—for the newspaper paragraphers. —Joseph (Ore.) Herald.

MISSING BALLOON IS FOUND, BUT NO MEN

(By Associated Press)

LIVESTOCK SELLS HIGH AT BIG SALE

Col. Harvey Chenault, T. D. Chenault, Douglas Chenault and several other local farmers attended the public sale of livestock of the late J. K. Baughman near Hustonville, Lincoln county, on Wednesday, conducted by Jones and Henry Baughman, administrators. A great crowd was present. The Danville Advocate says prices paid were higher than previous times. Three-year-old mules brought from $150 to $362 per head; 20 ponies brought from $78 to $150 per head; sows and pigs from $75 to $100; fat hogs $10.50 per hundred; a saddle mare $335 and cows from $61 to $115. The Advocate says that there has been a great awakening among farmers and stockmen and the outlook is now more encouraging than it has been in months. The country is in fact in a very prosperous condition, but due to unfounded fright and undue agitation the financial men began closing down when in reality there was no excuse for it.

EX-KENTUCKIANS ARE COMING ACROSS WELL

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Ky., April 9.—"Expatriate" Kentuckians, to whom Governor Edwin P. Morrow appealed in an extra territorial proclamation to aid in the purchase and preservation of "Federal Hill," where Stephen C. Foster wrote "My Old Kentucky Home," are coming to the aid of the committee in fine shape, according to announcement here today. A total of $3,500, including the $2,500 check of Marc Klaw, already has been received from four cities. The committee, appointed by Governor Morrow, is endeavoring to raise $100,000 with which to purchase and restore for preservation to future generations, the old homestead of the Rowan family, which was erected in 1795 near Bardstown.

The following checks have been received:

W. H. Cunningham, Huntington.....	$100
Marc Klaw, New York City.....	$2,500
Jos. L. Rhinock, New York City.....	$500
W. V. Hagen, New York City.....	$100

A. L. Clothier, New York City.....	$10
Total.....	$3,500

ever. But McCown, Doug. Chenault, Pleas Park, Bob Covington, McClain, Stanifer, Denison, are showing up good in practice. "Old Man" Sautley, who in his dotage is just about as rabid a fan as he was in his youth, hopes to be able to make second catcher or water-boy, anyway, it is said. His 13-year-old son, Shelt, Jr., thinks he can beat the "old boy" out of a place on the team, sure.

A couple of other "old timers" who will be seen in the First Baptist uniform are Dr. O. F. Hume and Joe Bender. Harry Rice was hanging around town Saturday and the report spread that he is trying to "horn in" on that "Campbellite" team, even though he's living down in Garrard now. Harry's a star anywhere you put him, and the other teams may try to rule him off the diamond.

The ladies will probably start season ticket selling this coming week. The business men and everybody will probably buy liberally, for all net proceeds will go to and some real sport is going to be Everybody's going to the games an dsome real sport is going to be enjoyed. It is planned to start the games regularly about 4:30 each day so that business men can all get off and go. Of course, when double-headers are played, as on the opening day, they will start earlier.

STATE WILL SOON MAINTAIN 3 PIKES

Madison Taxpayers to Be Relieved of Big Sum For Upkeep
After This Year

After this year Madison county taxpayers will be relieved of the entire cost of upkeep of a large portion of three of the principal turnpikes of the county.

The county's road department is now finishing ditching on the Big Hill pike, toward Berea. This is part of the Dixie Highway, and after it is properly ditched by the county, will be taken over by the State Road Department for further maintenance. It is planned to complete surfacing with tar for seven and a half miles, it is understood by advices from State Commissioner Joe S. Boggs. Two and a half more miles will be so surfaced from Richmond southward and five and a half miles this side of Berea.

The State Department will also take over four miles of the Red House pike, from Stone Run creek to the old Boonesboro pike, just this side of the Beach property. This portion of the pike was rebuilt under state aid, and will therefore be taken over by the State Road Department for future maintenance.

Then, with the completion of seven miles of the Lexington pike, under state and federal aid this year, that much of that highway will go into the hands of state road engineers for upkeep. In this way, it will be seen that a large part of three of the most travelled thoroughfares in the county will soon be in such shape that they will be at no further expense to the taxpayers of Madison county for maintenance. This will naturally release a large fund which has had to be spent for them in past years, for use in improving and building other roads in the county. It will prove a very satisfactory example within a short time of what state aid and federal aid will mean to a county which is willing to co-operate and secure state and government money.

County Road Engineer J. G. Baxter has large crews of workmen rushing final work on the highways above named which are ready to be taken over by the state at once. Of course, the Lexington pike maintenance will come after it is completed.

Mr. Baxter has received notification from Frankfort that the rock from the quarry here has been approved for base work on the Lexington pike. It is necessary for government experts to examine and approve all rock and other materials which go into the construction of a highway which is built with federal funds. Engineer Johnson, from the state department, finished his preliminary plans and specifications some weeks ago, and they have been in Washington for examination and approval. Mr. Baxter has received word from Frankfort that the contract will be let for the work about May 1st.

A contract will be made with the county, it is understood, for 40,000 tons of Richmond rock for $6,000. A big force of men will be put at the quarry as soon as possible so as to cause no delay anywhere in the work.

Congressman Cantrill's Son Sued For Divorce

Georgetown, Ky., April 9.—Jas. E. Cantrill, son of Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill, has been sued for divorce by Mrs. Corrine Aswell Cantrill, on the grounds of drunkenness and cruelty. They were married in Washington in October, 1919. Mrs. Cantrill is a Louisiana girl. She alleges in her petition, filed here, that her husband is drawing a monthly income of $166 from Scott county land and $150 salary from the government, and she asks for whatever alimony the court deems proper.
